MIDI Layering Between 2 MIDI Keyboards, or a MIDI Keyboard & MIDI Tone Module(s)

In this setup, the MIDI keyboard sends note and control changes to be recorded by the MIDI sequencer. The MIDI sequencer also sends this data during recording and playback to the MIDI tone modules and transmits a MIDI clock to synchronize the tempo of the drum machine. Other setups might have the drum machine controlling the external clock of the sequencer, or may use the drum machine as a MIDI percussion tone module on its own channel, (ex. Ch 10).
